

Books To Prisoners (B2P) Book Drive

February 2021

Central Illinois Unitarian Universalists are collecting books in February.

We especially need the following books:

- US Black Freedom Struggle
- Non-Violent Strategy
- Faith and Politics
- The Dignity of Work
- Martin Luther King, Jr.
- Dictionaries
- GED Preparation Guides

These books will go a long way in providing education and entertainment material to incarcerated persons. Thank you for your donation in advance.

How will it work?

1. Collect books on your own or with your family.
2. Drop off to UUCUC in the book collection bin starting on February 17th or email Kendra Gibson to schedule a pick up re-assistant@uucuc.org
3. Take pictures of your family and church involved with this project. We will create a photo documentary of the event from beginning to end.

For more information contact Emily McKown at youthcoordinator@uucuc.org or Michele Grove re-director@uucuc.org.

Detailed Information:

Where do collectors bring books?

Starting February 17th, a book collection bin will be available at UUCUC. It will be located under the long porch outside the basement religious education classrooms. Watch for signs from the UUCUC parking lot.

You can also email Kendra Gibson at re-assistant@uucuc.org to schedule a pickup.

What is the deadline? February 28, 2021.

UUCUC will then deliver the entire collection to Books to Prisoners and take lots of pictures to share with the congregations.

If you would like a more detailed list of needed books, check out this Amazon wish list. These books are still in demand.

For more information, contact Michele Grove re-director@uucuc.org or Emily McKown youthcoordinator@uucuc.org, Central Illinois UU project coordinators. They will schedule pick up and drop off.
