Dear Rev. Caplow,

I am pleased to confirm that UUSC received UU Church of Urbana-Champaign's collection in the amount of $1,830 on December 31, 2020. Thank you so much for your generous support through your November social action offering, and please convey UUSC's deep gratitude to your congregation for helping make our programs possible.

Since our founding 80 years ago, Unitarian Universalist congregations have been fundamental partners in UUSC's work to advance human rights and social justice around the world. Today, congregation leaders and members continue to join hands with UUSC and bolster our work in so many ways. This includes traveling on solidarity delegations, engaging with legislators on key issues, organizing workshops through our UU College of Social Justice, and sustaining our human rights projects through generous contributions.

In light of the current challenges and uncertainties we are all facing with the COVID-19 virus and its repercussions, we appreciate that your congregation remembers that UUSC is actively partnering with communities already at risk and made even more vulnerable by a public health crisis. The work of advancing human rights is even more urgent in times like these.

I look forward to being in touch about additional opportunities to collaborate and strengthen our shared work for justice. I also invite you to reach out to me directly at mkmorn@uuscs.org about ways UUSC and your congregation can work more closely together, especially as more of your services and activities move online. In the meantime, please know how much we appreciate your congregation's vital ministry and your support for UUSC's work to uplift community-led human rights projects in over 20 countries around the world.

With much gratitude,
